

Agenda

Wednesday, February 17, 2021

11:00am-12:30pm – New Terms & Conditions on International Collaborations

11:00-11:45am	Introduction and Overview of New Terms & Conditions Jim Ulvestad, Chief Officer for Research Facilities Rebecca Keiser, Chief of Research Security Strategy & Policy An overview of NSF's New Terms & Conditions on International Collaborations. NSF to provide background on why the new T&Cs were added to safeguard American innovation while encouraging foreign collaborations and how NSF will evaluate notifications.
11:45am-12:00pm	Initial Question & Answer Session – New Terms & Conditions
12:00-12:15pm	Notification Process Roland Roberts, Program Director A discussion of the notification process expectations from the Program perspective.
12:15-12:30pm	Follow- Up Question & Answer — New Terms & Conditions
12:30-2:00pm	Lunch Break
2:00-3:30pm – New Terms & Conditions and Major Facility Guidance (MFG) on Recipient Core Competencies
2:00-3:00pm	Introduction and Overview of Recipient Core Competencies Matt Hawkins, Head, Large Facilities Office Eddie Whitehurst, Deputy Branch Chief, Cooperative Support Branch Successful execution of construction projects and on-going programs of the scale and complexity typical of NSF major facilities requires skilled people who collectively possess a broad range of professional competencies. After establishing core competencies for NSF staff integrated project teams, similar guidance was developed for major facilities award recipients in the MFG and through new T&Cs. NSF will provide an overview of the development process, highlighting some of the important aspects in the draft MFG now out for public comment.
3:00-3:30pm	Question & Answer Session — Recipient Core Competencies